THE WEEKLY SUN.

BALTIMORE

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING,

BY A. S. ABLE & CO.,

FROM THE "SUN IRON BUILDING,"

At the S. E. corner of Baltimore and South sts.

Terms Cash in Advance:

For One Copy for Six Months or less	$1 00
For One Copy for One Year	1 50

THE WEEKLY SUN will renew its best efforts as a first-class News and Literary Journal. Every improvement of modern journalism—by which it is distinguished—will be maintained, and such attention be given to its several departments as will insure their continued interest, and whatever may be necessary to render them more complete will not be lost sight of.

Through no other medium can families and individuals in the towns and villages and rural districts of the country be so well supplied with proper literature, and a full knowledge of the world's whole news, from week to week.

MAKE UP CLUBS.

While the WEEKLY SUN is afforded at the low rate of $1 50 per annum to single subscribers, the CLUB rates are still lower, carrying the price down as low as one dollar per year where twenty-five copies or more are taken at one post office at a time, viz:

Club of Six Copies, One Year	$8 00
Club of Twelve Copies, One Year	15 00
Club of Fifteen Copies, One Year	18 00
Club of Twenty Copies, One Year	22 00
Club of Twenty-five Copies, One Year	25 00
Club of Thirty-five Copies, One Year	35 00

Parties, then, should get up CLUBS in their towns, villages and neighborhoods, and thus secure the advantage of these very low rates. Any postmaster or storekeeper in the county may easily accomplish this among his acquaintances, or any active person, male or female, do the same. The regular diffusion of the light and intelligence which such a journal affords will be a moral and social advantage in any neighborhood.

To those parties getting up clubs for the Weekly Sun, sent to one post office, we will mail hereafter to the address of any one sending us

A CLUB OF TWELVE SUBSCRIBERS

An extra copy of the Weekly Sun, gratis, for one year; for a

CLUB OF TWENTY SUBSCRIBERS

We will send a copy of The Daily and Weekly Sun for six months; for a

CLUB OF TWENTY-FIVE SUBSCRIBERS

We will send a copy of the Daily Sun for one year, and to the sender of a

PLANTATION BITTERS.

S. T.—1860—X.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid, it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

For sale by all druggists marl0m6.

THE GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

DR. WALKER'S

CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS.

More than 500,000 persons bear testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY? They are not a VILE FANCY DRINK, made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true medicine, made from the native Roots and herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell.

$100 will be given for an incurable case, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, and Gout, Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Livers, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful.—Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

THEY ARE A GENTLE PURGATIVE AS WELL AS A TONIC, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion, or Inflamation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

Cleans the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins. cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE, and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed.

In Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, these Bitters have no equal. For full directions read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

Kitty Glenn stood in the pantry with the sleeve of her gingham dress rolled up to her shoulders, displaying the plump, white arms, her hands playing bopeep in the heap of flour before her, and her bright eyes peeping out through the green vines which shadowed the window to the handsome specimen of humanity which stood upon the lawn before the house, busily talking with Bob Glenn.

Dick Arnot was her ideal of manliness and perfection, and ever since he had "beaued" her home from singing school on the preceding winter, she had kept a warm place for him in her loving heart, and loved to please him.

Every time she wound her shining curls around her white fingers, it was with a thought that it would please Dick, and whenever she donned her pretty muslin dress, it was with pleasure, because once she had heard him express his admiration of them.

All at once that bright morning, Dick left Kitty's brother, and walked strait up to the vine-wreathed window and gazed in upon the pretty picture.

"Well, Kitty, I am here to say good-by. I am going away from home."

"Going away!"

There was a great deal of real pain in her voice, and all the sunshine left her face.

"Yes, I am going to the city to seek my fortune. Are you sorry."

"Yes, Dick, I am sorry."

"Well, Kitty, I am going to write to you; will you answer my letter?"

"Yes, indeed."

"And I shall expect a true answer to all the questions I ask."

She blushed and laughed.

"Why, I always tell the truth, Dick."

"Yes, yes, I know, but—well, but—"

"But what?"

"Never mind, little one, I'll tell it all in my letter. Good-by, Kitty." And away he ran, leaving her confused and unhappy at the window.

Poor little girl! Her heart wandered out to the great handsome fellow crossing the bridge at the foot of the long hill, and she forgot her biscuit, and moulded them till they were hard as India rubber.

Mrs. Glenn came in and gave her a smart pinch for her forgetfulness, and when she returned to the kitchen she shook her head and believed that Ratherine's wits were sartin leaving her.

"Leave the gal alone, mother!" said Farmer Glenn, who had come up from the field for the lunch box and his root beer. "She's no different from gals in old times. I saw that young Arnot goin' down the hill, and I guess he carried her wits with him. Hey, Kitty?"

"Nonesense!"

"Never mind, pet, he's a likely chap and may make a great man."

Ah, how anxious Kitty waited for the letter which was to bring the sweet story from Dick, and poor Bob was dispatched every day for the mail, rain and shine.

One week, two weeks passed, and yet no letter, and the light heart grew heavy and sad.

"Why didn't Dick write?"

One night Bob brought a bundle of letters and papers, and as he tossed them into her lap, he said:

There, sis, I hope you'll find that letter that you so long for, among the pile. I hate to see you so sorry. I do believe you expect to hear from Dick Arnot! If it's so, he had better write; if he don't I'll tan his hide for him."

"Don't Bob!" pleaded Kitty, anxiously looking for the wished-for missive.

It was all in vain!

There was a letter from a city cousin who wanted to make a visit to Glenn Farm. There was another from uncle Will, all business and politics, and messages to her father, and one from an old school friend, but none from Dick. She tossed them into the little table drawer and went up to her chamber and cried until her bright eyes were dim and heavy.

Of course she did not care for him. Oh, no! but he had no occasion to promise her a letter, and beg her to write to him. The wretch!

Well it did not help the matter, and after three or four weeks of eager watching she gave it up, and buried her love and hope deep down in her heart, and tried hard to forget him.

It was no easy task, for Kitty's life was quiet and uneventful, and there was nothing to call her mind from the old happiness of which she had so fondly dreamed.

When the year ended Dick returned.

Kitty saw him at church and received his formal bow with hightened color and beating heart. He passed close beside her and looked into her face with a bland smile, but never spoke a word.

Poor Kitty! It brought back the old trouble, and when she went home she sat down and cried as in days when she watched for the promised letter.

He came one night, and met Kitty as she came up from the field with a basket filled with ripe strawberries upon her arm.

She saw him, and wished herself miles away; but there was no chance to avoid him, and she walked straight to the bars, where he awaited her.

"Kitty, you are trying to avoid me, but as there are no other means of leaving the field unless you climb the fence of course you must pass me. Now, I am better natured than yourself. I do not entertain an unkindly feeling toward you, for all your unkindness."

"My unkindness!"

"Yes, you never gave me one kind word in reply to the long letter I sent you so many months ago."

"Your letter! I never received it. I watched for it, Dick, until I was tired, but it never came.

"But I sent it, Kitty, and watched for your reply until my heart grew sick. But as it never met your eyes I will tell you its contents. Will you listen?"

"Certainly."

"It was a long letter, but its whole import can be told in a few words. I only told you how dear you were to me, and asked you to wait until I came to claim you for my wife."

"O Dick!"

"What shall it be? Are you ready to reply?"

"Yes, I think so."

"And your reply is—

'Yes.'"

He leaned over, and kissed the bright face, and then dropped the bars for her to walk through, and together they walked up the lane to the house.

"Dick" called Bob, "has Kitty found her letter?" "I believe so for she looked as she did when you stood talking at the window, last summer."

Yes, Kitty had found her letter, or its meaning, and all the vanished happiness stole back to her heart and lighted up her sweet face!

It was only a short time ago that Kitty in her cottage just across the way from father's, sat cutting the old worn out blue jacket, which Bob had gloried in for several years, into strips for a drawn rug, on the frame close by and found in the lining a little creased and soiled envelope. She turned it over and read, "Miss Kitty Glenn, Harding, N. H."

"Dear me! I wonder what this means!" she thought; and after she had turned it over several times she opened it.

There it was, the long-lost letter in which Dick had told his love-story!

Kitty smiled.

"Well, it's just as well. It came out all right."

AT EASE IN SOCIETY.

"I'd rather thrash wheat all day in the barn," said Reuben Riley to his sister, as he adjusted an uncomfortable collar about his sunburnt neck, "than go to this pesky party. I never knew what to do with myself, stuck up there in the parlor all the evening. If the fellows would pull their coats off and go out and chop on a match, there' be some sense in it."

"Well, I hate it as bad as you do, Reub," said sister Lucy. "The fact is, we never go nowhere, nor see anybody, and no wonder we feel so awkward when we do happen to stir out."

The remarks of this brother and sister were but echoes of the sentiment of many other farmers' boys and girls, when invited out to spend a social evening. But poor Lucy had hit the true cause of the difficulty. It was not because they so seldom went to any place, but because their is such a wide difference between their home and company manners. The true way to feel at ease in any garb is to wear it often. If the pleasing garb of good manners is only put on upon rare occasions it will nevee fit well, and never seem comfortable.

Learn to behave properly at home, to cultivate yourself. Do not sit, or stand, or lounge about in ungainly attitudes, but acquire a manly, erect and graceful bearing. I have never seen such vigorous, hearty manhood in any class as among cultivated farmers' sons. Let table manners be especially looked after. Note carefully how well-bred people behave, and do your best to imitate them. It is noble to be an imitator of that which is good and beautiful. Above all, if you wish to be at home in society, fill your brains with ideas. Set your mind to work. Wake it out of the slugishness it would naturally sink into. Take the newspapers and read them throughly. Knowledge is power in more senses than one. If you go into society with something in your mind worth talking about, you will not fail to find listeners who will treat you with respect, and were you are well received, you will not fail very soon to find yourself at ease.

A NOVELIST'S REVENGE

The London Athenæum tells the following story: "Mr. Brown, let us call him the proprietor of, shall we say, The Kitchen Stunner, was dissatisfied with his novelist, Mr. Jones, and told him so. Jones was then half way through a romance which appeared in weekly driblets; but Brown gave him notice to quit at once, and added that he had engaged Mr. Robinson to go on with and complete the story. Jones accepted the warning, but remarked that, as he had sufficient manuscript copy to supply the chapters for the next number, they had to be "set up," after which Mr. Robinson might take up the thread of the story, and get to the end of it. Brown consented, and went down to his suburban retreat, whither was forwarded to him the next number of the Stunner, with Jones' chapters from which Robinson was to continue the narrative. If Brown possesses true critical faculty, he must have admired the inventive power of the old hird writer, and have doubted whether Robinson would be equal to the present emergency. In short, Jones having collected every living personage and animal he had named in the novel, put them all on board a ship bound for America, and sent the whole of them, ship, freight and passengers, down to the very bottom of the Atlantic, never to be brought up again. The words, 'To be continued, at the close of the chapter, formed a challenge to the ingenuity of Robinson, which he was too ill-qualified to accept, and accordingly the story remains somewhere unfinished, and as forgotten as the author who stopped and the writer who could not set it going again."

A FOX'S REVENGE.

A respectable man of the county of Montgomery, resided on the banks of the Hudson river. One day he went to a bay on the river to shoot ducks or wild geese. When he came to the river he saw six geese beyond shot. He determined to wait for them to approach the shore. While sitting there he saw a fox come down to the shore, stand some time and observe the geese. At length he turned and went into the woods, and came out with a bunch of moss in his mouth. He then entered the water very silently, sank himself, and then keeping the moss above water—himself concealed—he floated among the geese. Suddenly one of them was drawn under the water, and the fox soon appeared on the shore with the goose on his back. He ascended the bank, and found a hole made by the tearing up of a tree. This hole he cleared, placed in the goose, and covered it with great care, strewing leaves over it. The fox then left; and while he was away the hunter unburied the goose and closed the hole, and then resolved to await the issue.—In about an hour the fox returned with another fox in company. They went directly to the place where the goose had been buried, and threw out the earth. The goose could not be found. They stood regarding each other for some time, when suddenly the second fox attacked the other furiously, as if offended by the trick of his friend.

LIFE IN GERMANY.

You enter a German house without knocking, through a door which rings a bell and thus announces the ingress or egress of some one. At the foot of the staircase you find a bell-handle, by ringing at which you call a servant who conducts you to a parlor or reception room on the next floor, which you enter by knocks. You will find the parlor and the best rooms in the house adorned with beautiful pictures on the walls, and elegant lace curtains at the windows, but probably without any carpet. The floor, however, is tesselated with beautiful patterns in various colors, and varnished, or at least it is scoured till it is as white as the driven snow. The amount of fine white linen which a German housekeeper has, and which she is not reluctant to show her guests, is fabulous. The Germans in this country, and in such cities as Gottingen, keep early hours, breakfasting at eight or earlier, dinner at two, and usually going to bed as early as ten. We attended a concert of most delightful music, but it began at five o'clock in the afternoon and closed at seven in the evening. In short, the child-like virtues of simplicity, candor, naturalness and heartiness which have almost died out in fashionable American society, still exist in Germany in all their primitive perfection.—Letter from Professor Tyler of Amhester College.

"Gentlemen of the jury," said a Western lawyer, "I don't mean to insinuate that this man is a covetous person, but I will bet five to one that if you should bait a steel trap with a new three cent piece, and place it within six inches of his mouth, you would catch his soul. I wouldn't for a moment insinuate that he would steal, but may it please the court and the gentlemen of the jury, I wouldn't trust him in a room with red hot millstones, and the angel Gabriel to watch 'em."

A glutton of a fellow was dining at a hotel, who, in the course of the "battle of knives, and forks," accidentally cut his mouth, which was observed by a Yankee sitting near by, who bawled out, "I say, friend, don't make that air hole in your countenance any larger, or we shall all be starved to death."

The Mahanoy Gazette says that while two gentlemen were driving from Hazleton to Jeanville, lately, they were fired upon repeatedly by four men, one of the balls taking effect in one of the gentlemen's breast and another in one of his arms. The four men were found, arrested and taken to Wilkesbarre jail.

HOUSE AND FARM.

Hard Sauce: One cup sugar, two-thirds of a cup of butter; beaten until perfectly smooth and white.

The best method of hitching a number of teams, one before the other, is to extend a long chain or rope from the leaders to the draught, and hitch the other teams to this by means of short chains.

Corn Fritters: Young sweet corn, pepper, salt, nutmeg, butter hot in a pan. Grate the corn from the cobs into a basin, season and drop by spoonfuls into the pan, and fry until brown. This is a delicious breakfast relish, but requires a considerable time to prepare it.

Jenny Lind's Pudding: Grate the crumb of half a loaf, butter the dish well, and lay in a thick layer of the crumbs; pare ten or twelve apples, cut them down, and put a layer of them and sugar; then crumbs alternately, until the dish is full; put a bit of butter on the top, and bake it well in an oven. An excellent and economical pudding.

Rice Cake: Take six eggs, with their weight in fine sugar, and in butter also, and half their weight of flour of rice, half of wheaten flour; make the cake as directed for Maderia cake, but throw in the rice after the flour; then add the butter in the usual way, and bake the cake about an hour and ten minutes. Give any flavor that is liked.

Veal Omelette: Three pounds of chopped veal, two eggs beaten, one tablespoonful of sweet cream, one tablespoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of ground pepper, six tablespoonfuls of rolled crackers, one taespoonful thyme or summer savory. Make into a long roll, put into a dripping pan with water enough to keep from burning. Bake well. Some add a slice of salt pork chopped.

Weevil. Salt is said to be a complete preventive against the destruction of wheat by weevil. Mix a pint of salt with a barrel of wheat, or put the grain in old salt barrels, and the weevil will not attack it. In stacking wheat, four or five quarters of salt to every hundred sheaves, sprinkled among them, will entirely secure them from the depredations of this insect, and render the straw more valuable as food for cattle.

Food for Pigs. A Highland county correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette vouches for the following as the best feed to make the biggest hog out of a pig in twelve months: Take two parts barley, two of corn and one of oats. Grind them together; then cook and feed cold. This way of feeding is the cheapest way to make hogs keep fat from the time they are pigs. Take any pig of a good improved breed, and it can be made in this manner to gain one pound a day until a year old.

Oatmeal Cracknels: Add just sufficient water to the oatmeal to wet it through; let it stand ten minutes to "set," then knead it with a little flour, and roll out, with a well-floured pin and board, to the thickness of a wheat kernel, cut with a knife, or small biscuit-cutter, and bake in a quick oven ten minutes, or until they will crack between the thumb and fingers. Do not let them brown. Good with soup or alone—less trouble to make than crackers.

Potato Pudding: Cook in water two quarts and a half of fine potatoes and mash them through a fine colander. Mix them then with a quarter pound of melted butter and the same quantity of powdered sugar. When the mixture is thorough, add six eggs, beaten as if for an omelette, a glass of brandy and a pound of Zante currants. Mix again, turn the whole into a cloth, tie it that the pudding may not escape. Put it to cook in boiling water, boil for a quarter of an hour, take it out of the cloth. Set it on a dish, and serve it bathed in sauce made of a glass of wine, in which sugar and melted butter have been mingled.

Close Grazing. If close grazing is injurious, how is it that in pastures which have not been plowed for years there are patches where cattle and sheep have kept the grass at all times very short, which always have a much thicker set of grass than where it has been left long? Why is it that when the stock is taken away the grass grows up in these places, so closely eaten down, in such a thick mass of white clover and other fine fibered grass; and if mown for hay, why is this always of the best quantity, and, though not so long and coarse, yet heavier in weigh? Moreover, why should there be grass on the roadsides and on waste places near villages, where the surface has not had the sod taken off, which, being grazed close by all manner of animals, shows a much better face than farmer's pastures?

Wheat for Feed. At the present price of the lower grades of wheat (unsound)—about one dollar and ten cents per sixty pounds—it is the cheapest feed in the market. It is estimated to be worth one-fifth more than corn, which is worth one dollar per bushel or more, for fifty-six pound. This gives the advantage of ten cents in price and four pounds, or eight cents in weight. For working animals, milch cows, growing young stock, swine and poultry, it is an excellent food

The Bedford Gazette.

Thursday Morning, March 17, 1870.

A BATCH OF LIES.

The Inquirer of last week copies from the Pittsburg Gazette an article which attempts to bolster up the Grant administration with a string of falsehooods that would have done honor to the Baron Munchausen himself.

First, says the Gazette, the administration, "has paid off eighty-eight millions of dollars of the public debt." We need but ask the reader to compare the last monthly statement of the debt made by ex-Secretary McCulloch with that of Secretary Boutwell on March 1, 1870, to prove the other falsity of this assertion. Secretary McCulloch always estimated the Pacific Railroad Bonds as part of the public debt, but Mr. Boutwell omits the whole amount of these bonds from his statement. The sum of these bonds, for which the United States Government is responsible, is almost as great as the amount of reduction of the debt claimed by the article in the Pittsburg paper. This is certainly a new way of paying old debts, and the plan ought to be copyrighted by the radical Secretary of the Treasury. Besides Boutwell counts as cash the bonds and paper currency redeemed by the Government which are utterly worthless unless re-issued, and they would become again a part of the public debt. An individual might as well count his own promissory notes, after redemption, as so much cash in hand! When the redeemed bonds and the currency in the treasury are eliminated from the cash assets claimed by Mr. Boutwell, it is found that instead of decreasing, the public debt has really increased about fifty two millions since Grant's accession to the Presidency.

Another assertion in the article referred to, namely, that "the administration has largely decreased the public expenditures," &c., is proved false by the facts and figures contained in the speech recently made in Congress by Mr. Dawes, one of the leaders of the republican party. He affirmed and proved by the official records that the estimates of Grant's administration of the expenses of the government for the next fiscal year are nearly fifty millions greater than the expenditures for the last year of Johnson's administration.

That the administration has "advanced the value of our depreciated currency from 1.32 to 1.15," is ridiculously false. The administration has had no more to do with the appreciation of the currency than the man in the moon. The increase in the production of cotton during the last year, has operated to retain gold in this country, that great staple having taken the place of coin in balancing our accounts with foreign countries. If the insane hatred of the South which rankled in the hearts of the radical leaders, had not conceived and put in practice a plan of "reconstruction" which took the negroes from the cotton-fields and placed them in the arena of politics, the cotton crops of the last five years would have been large enough to turn the balance of trade in favor of the United States, and to-day, instead of the currency fluctuating from 1.12 to 1.15, it would be at par. So much for what King Cotton, and not the administration has done for the appreciation of the currency.

As to the other statements of the article, they are of a piece with those to which we have alluded. There is but one truthful sentence in the whole thing, that in which it is asserted that the administration has completed the radical reconstruction of all the Southern State governments on "Republican" principles. That is certainly indisputable. At a cost of hundreds of millions of dollars to the people of the North, the ignorant, degraded and vicious negroes of the South have been given control of the State governments in that section; white American citizens have been disfranchised and made the political slaves of the blacks; and a negro preacher who embezzled the funds of his church in Kansas has been elected to the United States Senate. Yes, the Southern State governments have been reconstructed on Republican principles.

THE democrats of the New York legislature have smashed the ring and the people of New York city will now be given an honest charter. The oppressive and odious commissions invented by radical malice for the government of the great metropolis will be swept away, and the people will hereafter select their municipal officers. So much for democratic ascendancy in the New York legislature.

THE radical majority in New Hampshire is about 1,100, a loss of 2,600 since last year, and of about 6,000 on the majority for Grant.

The Newburyport Herald, referring to the report that black men will succeed Dewesee and Whittimore in Congress, express regret that the committee found out those worthies. That's treasonable.

THE HUMBUG AGAIN.

At the beginning of every month the people of the United States are solemnly informed by the Secretary of the Treasury that the public debt has been decreased by certain amounts duly specified. It would afford us great pleasure to chronicle the fact were it fact and not falsehood. That a high official should persistently send out to the public a statement which is a lie on its face, seems almost incredible. Nevertheless such is the shameful fact.—Look for instance, at Mr. Boutwell's figures for the past month. His statement is as follows:

Total debt—Principal and interest, to date, including coupons due not presented for payment		$2,651,688,795 43
Amount in Treasury:
Coin	$102,400,739 97
Currency	10,280,285 68
Sinking fund in United States coin interest bonds, and accrued interest thereon	27,876,320 00
Other U. S. coin interest bonds purchased, and accrued interest thereon	73,782,763 61
		213,310,318 26
Debt, less amount in the Treasury		$2,438,328,477 17
Debt, less amount in the Treasury on the 1st ultimo		2,444,813,288 92
Decrease of debt during the past month		6,484,811 75
Decrease of debt since March 1, 1869		87,134,782 84

Now, in the first place the Pacific railroad bonds, always estimated as a part of the public debt by Secretary M'Culloch, are not included in the above statement. They amount, with the accrued interest unpaid, to $65,094,861 20. This sum added to the gross amount of the debt as above stated, makes an agregate of $2,716,763,656 63. Now, what are the assets claimed by Mr. Boutwell to be at present in the Treasury? Why, among others, $100,659,283 61 of United States coin interest bonds! That is to say, this amount of the promissory notes of the United States have been redeemed by the United States, and though just as worthless to the United States as the paper of an individual is to that individual after he has redeemed it and recovered possession of it, this valueless paper is counted as assets and Mr. Boutwell coolly proceeds to deduct the amount of the value which it once had from the amount of the principal and interest of the public debt! To make this perfectly clear to the dullest understanding let us illustrate: An individual draws a promissory note on which he obtains money. He afterwards lifts the note. Having redeemed the note and recovered possession of it, it is perfectly valueless to him and he destroys it. In like manner the government issues bonds. It obtains the money on them. Afterwards it lifts these bonds. But Mr. Boutwell, instead or cancelling of destroying them puts those redeemed evidences of government debt in the strong box of the Treasury, and with a felicity of imagination that is truly wonderful, treats them as cash! If the reader held an estate charged with a mortgage, would not the owner of the mortgage regard him as a lunatic if he proposed to pay off the mortgage with his own paper formerly held by other parties but lately redeemed by him? Yet this is precisely what Boutwell asks the public to believe he can do and is doing. The only bona fide assets in the Treasury are $102,400,739.97 in coin, as above stated, and this sum alone is to be deducted from the gross amount of the public debt. Hence a true statement of the debt and the credits to which the government is entitled would be a follows:

Total debt—Principal and interest		$2,716,763,656 63
Assets in Treasury		102,400,739 97
Total debt less assets in Treasury		2,614,362,916 66

But let us see what was the amount of the debt on the first of March, 1869. We copy from the statement of Seretary M'Culloch as printed in the Harrisburg Telegraph of March 5,1869:

"Debt bearing compound interest, $2,107,854,050; debt bearing currency interest, $71,040,000; matured debt not presented for payment, $6,422,463 64; debt bearing no interest, $421,578,180 50; six per cent. (lawful money) bonds issued to Pacific railroad companies, $53,937,000; total debt, $2,660,931,694 14. Amount in Treasury—coin, $98,741,260 72; currency, $16,853,529 04; total, 115,594,789 76. Amount of debt less cash in the Treasury, $2,545,336,904 38."

It will be seen that Secretary M'Culloch did not count anything but coin and currency as assets. But he had no right to treat the amount of currency in the Treasury as cash, not a whit more than an individual has to count his own redeemed promissory notes as assets. Therefore a correct statement of the debt on the first of March, 1869, would stand thus:

Total debt—Principal and interest		$2,660,931,694 14
Assets in Treasury		98,741,260 72
Total debt less assets in Treasury		$2,562,190 433 42

Now what does this prove? Why, that the public debt instead of having been reduced, as claimed by the mendacious Boutwell, has been actually and positively and indisputably augmented since the first of March, 1869. Let us cipher:

Total debt less assets in Treasury, March 1, 1870		$2,614,362,916 66
Total debt less assets in Treasury, March 1, 1869		2,562,190,433 42
Increase since March 1, 1869		$ 52,172,483 24

Figures will not lie. Even the dexterity of Boutwell fails to make his digits hide the truth. It is a fact, a glaring, stubborn and irresistible fact, that the public debt has increased upwards of Fifty-two millions during the last year, and no man who is not a knave or a fool will attempt to deny it.

GOVERNOR STEVENSON, of Kentucky, has done a very proper thing in refusing to accept the resignation of Golladay, the member of Congress from that State, who is charged with having dabbled in the cadetship corruption. Gov. Senter, of Tennessee, likewise deserves credit for declining to receive the resignation of Butler, member of Congress from that State, who has been proved guilty of the charge of selling a cadetship. Stevenson and Senter are democrats, and gentlemen of character and education.—On the other hand, Gov. Scott, of South Carolina, and Gov. Holden, of North Carolina, did not hesitate a moment to accept the resignations of Whittemore and Deweese, members of Congress from their respective States, who were convicted of trafficking in cadetships. These resignations were communicated to and accepted by these Governors by telegraph. Scott, of South Carolina, is a corrupt and contemptible carpet-bagger, whilst Holden is a scalawag who has been on all sides of the political questions, "everything by turns and nothing long." The contrast between the former and the two latter may not be apparent to radical optics, but to people who are not willfully blind it is quite perceptible.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, March 8.

The Funding bill was again under discussion in the United States Senate yesterday afternoon and evening. Mr. Bayard, of Delaware, made an elaborate speech against the bill. Mr. Morton introduced a bill to admit the State of Texas to representation in Congress, on the same conditions as in the case of Virginia. Mr. Harlan, from the Committee on Indian Affairs, reported a bill for carrying into effect the treaty with the Cherokees. In th House of Representatives Mr. Schenck introduced a resolution instructing the Committee on the District of Columbia to consider a bill repealing the charters of the Cities of Washington and Georgetown. An attempt was made to restore Mr. Golladay, of Kentucky to his rights as a member of the House in consequence of the refusal of the Governor of Kentucky, to accept his resignation, but the Speaker ruled that Mr. Golladay was no longer a member.—The Judiciary Committee were instructed to report some rule to be established by the House in the case of members resigning during the investigation into their official conduct. The Georgia bill was resumed and several speeches were made, but no vote was reached.

WASHINGTON, March 9.

In the United States Senate the Funding bill was again discussed, Mr. Sherman, of Ohio, advocating the payment of the interests in certain cities of Europe, and proposing the allowance of one per cent. for the negotiation. Mr. Morton's Neutrality bill, forbidding the fitting out of ships within the United States against American colonists claiming independence, was introduced with the approval of the Committee on Foreign Relations.

The Georgia bill has been passed by the House and sent to the Senate, Butler had the pleasure of being beaten by Bingham, whose amendment offered yesterday was adopted by forty majority. This helps to oust Bullock—the Senate bill retaining him in office for many years to come.

WASHINGTON, March 10.

In the Senate of the United States, yesterday, the petition of a Mr. Hatch, of Connecticut, for the release of his father, who is unjustly confined by the Dominican government, led to some angry denunciations of President Baez and his partisans. Senator Ferry declared that Mr. Hatch was imprisoned because he possessed certain knowledge concerning an effort to swindle the United States government in the purchase of that island. Mr. Williams, from the Finance Committee, reported against the joint resolution extending the time for a withdrawal of spirits from bonded warehouses.—Mr. Trumbull reported the Georgia bill from the House. Another Cuba sympathy resolution (said to be inspired by General Quesada,) was introduced and laid on the table. The Senate then took up the Funding bill and discussed it during the afternoon and evening sessions. In the House of Representatives, Mr. Mungen offered a resolution of inquiry into the arbitrary seizures made by Collector Bailey in N. Y. city, but Mr. Jenckes, of Rhode Island, objected, Mr. Garfield offered a resolution of inquiry into the expediency of admitting small packages in the mails, which was adopted. The fight on the New York and Washington Air Line Railroad bill began with an effort by its patron, Mr. Ingersoll, to rush it through the House. Several Democratic members denounced the bill, Mr. Wood declaring that the House was being asked to give away to a few men a franchise that could be sold in Wall street for twenty millions of dollars. After a spicy debate, Mr. Ingersoll's motion for the previous question was voted down, 67 to 74, and the bill went over. Mr. Stevenson, from the Post-office Committee, reported a bill reducing the mileage of members of Congress.

WASHINGTON, March 11.

The debate on the Funding bill in the United States Senate continued through the afternoon and evening sessions of yesterday. A fight was made by the champions of the national banks for the retention of the peculiar privileges they now enjoy. Mr. Casserly, speaking of the grasping spirit manifested by the banks, declared that the Democrats could desire no better issue than this. The House took up and debated the bill to reduce the number of officers in the army. General Logan, as chairman of the Military Committee, made the leading speech, in which he showed that the bill reduced the number of army officers about 33 per cent., and effected a saving of nearly $3,000,000. He stated that as the army now stood it was so burdened with officers that there was one for every ten enlisted men. The bill was voted upon by sections, and finally passed. A proposition to transfer the Indian Bureau to the War Department was lost.

WASHINGTON, March 12.

After a protracted debate, the United States Senate yesterday passed the Funding bill. The vote was—yeas, 32, nays, 10, all the Democrats voting in the negative. In the Senate, bills were introduced to promote the securing of efficient seamen for the navy, and to regulate international correspondence by telegraphic lines between the United States and foreign countries. Mr. McDonald, of Arkansas, offered a resolution, which was agreed to, calling upon the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to furnish certain details of information in regard to the number of spirit distilleries throughout the country; the names of the parties furnishing spirit meters; their cost, and the time they were in successful operation. The negro Senator presented a remonstrance from the negro members of the Georgia Legislature, against Mr. Bingham's amendment to the Georgia bill. In the House of Representatives, the Tariff bill was discussed and Mr. McCarthy, of New York, took the floor on the salt duty. The Deficiency bill called forth a spirited debate, in the course of which Messrs. Cox, Beck, and Vorhees gave Mr. Dawes a ludicrous overhauling for the inconsistency between his House speeches in favor of economy, and his New Hampshire speeches defending Grant's extravagant administration.—Mr. Dawes made a lame attempt to defend himself, but his Democratic inquisitors had the better of him.

THE LAST SCENE OF THE HUNTINGDON MURDER.

Execution of Bohner and Bodenburg.

On Wednesday last the murderers of the Peighta! family suffered the extreme penalty of the law at Huntingdon. The following particulars of the execution we gather from the Globe:—

The day of the execution was ushered in by a bright and golden sun, and early in the morning the streets were filled by a throng of people, anxiously awaiting the hour when the prisoners would be sent by the last resort of the law into eternity. Many a thought was had for the prisoners, and even the boldest hearted must have felt a nervous quiver as he contemplated the scene that was to be enacted to-day.

All the preparations for the execution had been made in due time. The scaffold was erected in the rear of the jail, and was twenty-three feet high. The platform around the scaffold was about thirteen feet from the ground, and reached by steps. The trap doors swing to each side, and admit of a width when open of two and a half feet. The rope was of the best hemp.

Around the jail wall and a short distance from it, there were a number of platforms erected to such a height, by private citizens, as to afford a full view of the whole progress of the execution.

We entered the cell about 8:30 o'clock and found Bohner lying on his bed smoking a cigar and reading a German Bible, as unconcerned as a man well could be. Bodenburg was leaning against his cell door, looking very much depressed in spirits and occasionally pacing his cell in a very uneasy manner. At 9 o'clock the cell doors were closed to all but the ministers and spiritual advisers.

Bohner was up to a late hour last night, laughing and talking to those in the cell, and smoking cigars given him by those present. Bodenburg was restless and uneasy, walking his cell and occasionally consulting his spiritual advisers. He did not sleep any, but Bohner laid down at one o'clock and slept about two hours. Both ate a hearty breakfast this morning.

THE EXECUTION.

Preparatory to bringing the prisoners from the cell, their hobbles and manacles were removed, at a quarter past-twelve, and their arms pinioned. At twenty-five minutes after twelve they were brought from the cell. The prisoners were taken on to the scaffold, having to go up a flight of fifteen steps. Neither of them showed any emotion of fear, and remained silent while the sheriff bound their feet. On the scaffold near the prisoners were Sheriff Neely, Revs. Steckel, Sykes, and Jas. C. Clarke, and Deputies Fouse and Weaver.

When their feet had been bound, Rev. J. Sykes, of Martinsburg, Blair county, delivered a short prayer in German.

Bodenburg then produced and read in German, in a clear and distinct tone, a paper in which he appealed to Bohner to tell the truth about the murder and exculpate him (Bohner) from any participation in the killing. [Bodenburg had previously made a confession in which he charged Bohner with having shot all three of the victims.]

At the conclusion of the reading Bohner replied to Bodenburg: "We have both been in. We are both guilty of death."

Bodenburg replied: Shame on you; shame on you, you know that I killed none."

Rev. Jas. C. Clarke, of this place, then delivered a short prayer, beseeching Heaven to have mercy on the souls of the criminals.

The rope was attached by the Sheriff to the necks of the prisoners at quarter of 1 o'clock. The ministers then bade them each farewell, after which Bodenburg offered up the following prayer: "O, Lord Jesus, forgive my sins, and take my poor soul into thy kingdom. Amen, amen, amen."

As soon as his prayer was concluded the Sheriff covered their heads with the black muslin caps, and bade them farewell. While they were talking, the Sheriff waved his hand to Deputy Fouse, who pulled the rope attached to the prop under the trap doors, and both the doomed men were launched into eternity.

They made a few convulsions, but these were not very perceptible.—The opinion was that both died of strangulation. Bodenburg died in 11 minutes, and Bohner in 15 minutes.

Their bodies were taken down after hanging 25 minutes, and placed in the coffins, and examined by the jury. The rope had done its work as speedily as it could be done—the image of death was stamped upon the countenance of each, and where the rope was attached was a blue mark.

Thus has ended one of the most dreadful punishments upon two men, whose deed of unparalleled butchery of the Peighta! family has met with but few equals in the annals of crime. Bohner, contrary to the expectations of many, was perfectly docile, from the time of bringing him from the cell until the drop fell. He took no advice from the spiritual advisers, whatever, preferring to rely on his own communings, and for a few days past he had been a constant reader of his Bible, and on the scaffold was deeply affected. Albert, on the other hand, has listened attentively to the counsel of Mr. Steckel, and on Monday last took sacrament in his cell.

THE CROWD.

The crowd in town to witness the execution was immense, and would probably reach 6000, and they availed themselves of every available position on the hill to obtain a view of the culprits. Some of the trees in the cemetery were filled with spectators; the impromptu scaffolds around the jail and in the vicinity were jammed, and it was with difficulty that some over-anxious ones could be kept off the walls. The crowd in the jail yard was also great, the number probably reaching 400. Fortunately for those who witnessed the execution, there was no mismanagement and therefore no failure. Everything was done expeditiously and satisfactorily; but we think there could be but one exclamation in the breast of every spectator when the two unfortunate men dangled mid earth and Heaven, and that is, "may I never look upon the like again!"

STRENGTH OF THE MASONIC ORDER.—The strength of the masonic order in the United States, as set forth in the following statement, is believed to be as nearly correct as can be obtained from the most authentic sources: Alabama, 10,423; Arkansas, 7,676; British Colorado, 482; Connecticut, 12,784; Delaware, 722; District of Columbia, 783; Florida, 1,393; Georgia, 13,167; Idaho, 225; Illinois, 30,229; Indiana, 21,205; Iowa, 11,552; Kansas, 2,645; Kentucky, 18,929; Louisana, 6,099; Maine, 14,120; Maryland, 4,791; Massachusetts, 28,366; Michigan, 18,016; Minnesota, 5,800; Mississippi, 12,308; Missouri, 14,832; Montana, 355; Nebraska, 986; Nevada, 951, New Brunswick, 1,312; New Hampshire, 6,032; New Jersey, 7,736; New York, 74,076; North Carolina, 11,184; Nova Scotia, 889; Ohio, 20,925; Oregon, 2,203; Pennsylvania, 29,840; Rhode Island, 4,253; South Carolina (estimated), 14,000; Tennessee, 16,960; Texas, 10,519, Vermont, 7,024; Virginia, 8,000; Washington, 348; West Virginia, 1,590; Wisconsin, 7,713; Total, 468,455. The number for this State, however, is believed to be nearly 36,000, as there have been a large number of admissions during the past two years, which cannot be definitely ascertained.

A census of the State of South Carolina taken in 1869 has just been made public, from which it appears that the total population is now 706,022—an increase of but 1,314 over what it was in 1860. There are, as shown by this census, 5,880 less white males of all ages now in the State than there were in 1860, and 11,812 less negro males; while an increase of 9,806 white and 9,460 negro females appears. Of the thirty districts into which South Carolina is divided, nineteen show a decrease and eleven an increase of population—the increase in the Charleston district being 65,089, and almost every one of the "up country districts," or those where the whites were most numerous in slave times, exhibiting an average decrease of 3,500; showing the tendency of the negro population towards the sea-coast. The entire number of white males 21 and upward now in the State is given as 94,428; and of negro males 21 and upward 64,477—a negro majority of 30,351. The number of white children between 6 and 16 shows an increase of 2,971 over the number between those ages in 1860; the negro like increase is 1,053. It is proper to state that we have no pathetic amount of belief in the accuracy of this 1869 census, but give and comment on its results as furnished. The population of Charleston, it may be added, is set forth as 44,923; whites, 20,353; negroes, 24,570; and 5,337 more females than males.

A few days ago Senator Wilson, in conversation with Judge Thurman, remarked by the way of a pleasant joke, that as there was no vacant seats on the republican side of the chamber, they had concluded to give Revels a desk next to him (Thurman). Wilson thought the Judge would enter a serious protest, but he didn't. He jumped at once to the practical view of the matter, and replied;

"All right; put him next to me, and I will have him voting with the democrats on every question that comes up, in less than a week."

Wilson didn't laugh any more, and Revels was not seated next to Thurman. The radicals took him to their own side, evidently regarding him as a tender lamb of the flock, in need of a little nursing.—Mack.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint, and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver, and put it to work: then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs and the patient outgrows the disease and get well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe, a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall-bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care), that will unlock the gall-bladder and starts the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the Alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills, or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Cataarh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has Consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood: then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

When there is no lung disease, and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all billious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompanying each, make it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr Schenck, unless the patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond Street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists.

Not correct, Davy. The fellow is a loil cuss who swallows the nauseous dose, amendment and all, because the "leaders" tell him so. He was an old subscriber of yours, but was not in town before, since you carpet-bagged yourself to Blair. That accounts for his ignorance. Eh?

ACCIDENTS.—Conrad Felton, of New Baltimore, met with an accident on the line of the P. & C. Railroad near Southampton Mills, Somerset county, which resulted fatally. A bank of earth caved in on him, and when extricated life was almost extinct.

One day last week, Mr. Weaver, residing near New Baltimore, met with a painful accident while cutting a tree which, in falling, struck another, breaking a limb, which falling struck him on the leg breaking both bones near the ancle. RETIRED.—William Hartley, Esq., has retired from the firm of Hartley & Metzger, and the business will hereafter be carried on at the old stand, by the latter. Mr. Hartley has for many years devoted special attention to the introduction of labor saving farm machinery, with a success truly astonishing. Being a practical farmer himself, he always anticipated the wants of the agricultural community, and supplied our farmers with the proper implements to facilitate their labors. The farm department will be kept up by "Sol." who will continue to shine at the old corner. Everything new and useful in his line of business can always be had at Metzger's including the best and safest coal oil lamp ever invented.

A CHIGNON SAVED HER.—It can be no longer said that the huge mass of hair worn on the head of "God's best gift to man," is more ornamental than useful. The idea that the lump of hair worn by the ladies, called a chignon, is a useless appendage, has been exploded. The editor of the Wheeling Register is now convinced of the usefulness of chignons. A beautiful young lady friend of his, while tripping over the icy pavement, slipped and fell, striking her head on an iron doorstep with such force as to stun her for a few minutes. He ran to her assistance and found that although stunned she was not hurt, and the only injury she sustained was that the sharp corner of the step had ruined the 'fixings' on her head. He advises ladies to wear big, fat chignons, being convinced that although not beautiful, they are useful.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—Davidson's Carpenter Shop and Contents Consumed.—The usual quiet of our town was disturbed by the cry of "fire!" on Thursday last. It was soon ascertained that the destructive element was at work on the carpenter shop of John Davidson, just outside of the western limits of the borough. By the time our "volunteer fire department" reached the scene, the fire had gained such headway that it was found impossible to prevent the destruction of the building, and all efforts were directed to save the closely adjacent houses. With an adverse wind this might not have been an easy task as the shop was filled with sash, doors and other prepared lumber and made a very large and threatening fire. Everything in the shop was destroyed, and the loss to Mr. Davidson is estimated at from twelve to fifteen hundred dollars. No insurance.

BRAINARD'S MUSICAL MONTHLY.—The March number of this valuable musical monthly is received, filled to overflowing with beautiful new music, both vocal and instrumental, and interesting reading matter. The present number contains 'Only Thine,' song and chorus, 'Sweet Flower, Emblem of Purity,' a ballad, and the 'Robin Redbreast Schottisch,' for piano. This music alone is worth $1.00—the price of the Musical World a year; and in addition to this amount of choice music each month, a great variety of valuable and instructive reading matter is given, consisting of musical sketches, stories, news, gossip, hints and intelligence from all parts of the world. We advise all our readers who are musically inclined to send $1.00 to S. Brainard & Sons, Cleveland, O., and they will receive the Musical World one year; or send ten cents, and specimen copies will be sent by return mail.

OUR RAILROAD PROSPECTS.—The latest rumor in regard to the extension of the Huntingdon and Broad Top Railroad, from Mt. Dallas to this places is that competent engineer, will survey the route as soon as the weather is favorable, and make estimates of the probable cost of construction. The old route with its expensive tunnel in Snake Spring township is to be abandoned and a more economical one adopted. Several propositions have been made to the H. & B. T. Railroad Company by the Kemble Coal and Iron Co. and other parties owning the valuable mineral lands about Bedford, and when all who have an interest in the extension of the road can come to an understanding the road may be considered a fair probability. Whether our citizens will in the end be called upon to contribute their share towards building the road, will be seen, but in that case we should not stand in our own light, but come up manfully to the work.

CENSUS TAKERS.—Many of our exchanges speak of a flutter among applicants for appointment as census-takers. Applicants are numerous, and the marshals of the different districts are likely to be importuned for some time to come. Congress having rejected the new plan proposed, the census for this year will be taken on the same basis as in 1850 and 1860. The assistants are appointed by the marshals, and the enumeration having to be commenced on the first day of June, and the census completed and the returns all sent in to the Secretary of the Interior by the first of November, is causing some activity on the part of the marshals and stirring up anxious applicants for assistant marshalships. Each State is divided into census districts, to be composed of not less than twenty thousand persons, and the enumerator being paid two cents for every name taken, ten cents for every farm, fifteen cents for every productive establishment of industry, two cents for every deceased person, and two per cent. of the gross amount for names enumerated for social statistics, and ten cents per mile for travel, the compensation of assistants will be from $600 to $1,000. This makes it a rather desirable job, and induces many to work hard to procure the position.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.—The 17th is emphatically Ireland's day, and her children should testify their appreciation of St. Patrick, by honoring and respecting the day in the most becoming manner.

Popular legends have ascribed to St. Patrick many miraculous achievements, among which was the banishment of all venemous reptiles from Ireland by means of a crosier, or staff, which is said to have been preserved with great veneration in Dublin as late as the year 1360. According to the best authority the life of St. Patrick was a very eventful one; some writers state that he was born in Gaul in 373, but the greater number agree that he was born at the mouth of the Clyde, in Scotland, in 372, and died at Cown, in Ulster, about the year 464. In the year 432 he began his missionary labors in Ireland, and preached the gospel with wonderful effect. While preaching to the Irish he used the shamrock or clover with its three leaves on the stem to illustrate the Trinity, this accounts for its adoption by the Irish nation as its emblem.—Perhaps no missionary ever accomplished a greater work than St. Patrick, or one more productive of good results; his life was passed in a rude age, and is consequently obscured by tradition, but the good effect caused by his preaching will continue forever.

The New Hampshire State election resulted in the success of the Republicans, but by a greatly reduced majority. Governor Stearns will have a majority of about 1,600 over the three opposing candidates. His majority last year was 3,773, and Grant's majority was 7,647. The Democrats have made some gains in the Legislature, but not enough to effect any result in combination with the Labor Reformers.—The popular vote shows that the Republicans hold their own in the State, while the Labor Reform party draw all their strength from the Democratic ranks.

A willow tree twenty-five years old was recently cut down on the premises of A. J. Howell, Spruce Hill township, Juniata county, Pa., measuring forty four inches in diameter, to a height often feet. It had six branches measuring from twelve to eighteen inches in diameter, and out of one branch a saw log sixteen feet long was taken, and out of the remaining five branches five pieces of timber sixteen feet long, six by seven inches, were hewn. The refuse of the top and chips from the broad axe made one and half cords of wood.

The missing steamer Schmidt, fifty days out from Bremen, came in safely to New York on 11th inst. She experienced violent gales, her engine was damaged, and she was obliged to lay to for twelve days for repairs. The captain says that while thus disabled two English ships passed by and refused to answer his signals. The Schmidt brought 296 passengers, and all were well in spite of a long and dangerous voyage.

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.—There will be sold at Public Sale, on the premises, in Londonderry township, on FRIDAY, MARCH 25th, 1870, the following described property, to wit. The MANSION TRACT, containing 262 acres, 160 acres cleared, 60 acres good meadow, and 100 acres bottom and limestone gravel, all in an excellent state of cultivation, having thereon erected an excellent DWELLING HOUSE, large frame barn and other out buildings, also a story and a half log house, with kitchen and stable, in the town of Bridgeport, and a GOOD SAW MILL on Big Will's creek, with unsurpassed water power and in good running order. This tract is situate at the junction of the Bedford and CONNELLSVILLE RAIL ROADS. There can be little doubt that a Depot will be erected upon or immediately adjoining it, thus rendering a considerable part valuable for BUILDING LOTS.

The above Farm will be offered in parcels, as follows; No. 1 About 76 acres adjoining where the proposed depot is to be erected, about 56 acres cleared and 20 acres timber, including Mansion House and Barn. No. 2, Containing about 85 acres, about 60 acres cleared and 25 timber, including house and lot in Bridgeport, Saw Mill and water power. No. 3, Containing about 100 acres, about 60 acres cleared and 40 acres timber. Draft shown on day of sale.

N. B. Widow's dower to remain in this property until her death.

Sale to commence at 1 o'clock, P. M., of said day, when further terms will be made known,

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one Medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For DYSPEPSIA or INDIGESTION, LISTLESSNESS, LANGUOR and LOSS of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For LIVER COMPLAINT and its various symptoms, BILLIOUS HEADACHE, SICK HEADACHE, JAUNDICE or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For DYSENTERY or DIARRHŒA, but one mild dose is generally required.

For RHEUMATISM, GOUT, GRAVEL, PALPITATION OF THE HEART, PAIN IN THE SIDE, BACK and LOINS, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For DROPSY and DROPSICAL SWELLINGS they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For SUPPRESSION a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a DINNER PILL, take one or two pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these PILLS makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometime subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

AYER'S AGUE CURE,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Billious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in no wise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or traveling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

THE ONLY RELIABLE CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA IN THE KNOWN WORLD.

Dr. Wishart's Great American Dyspepsia Pills and Pine Tree Tar Cordial are a positive and infallable cure for Dyspepsia in its most aggravated form and no matter of how long standing.

They penetrate the secret abode of this terrible disease, and exterminate to it, root and branch, forever.

They alleviate more agony and silent suffering than tongue can tell.

They are noted for curing the most desperate and hopeless cases, when every known means fail to afford relief.

No form of Dyspepsia or Indigestion can resist their penetrating power,

DR. WISHART'S

PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL.

It is the vital principle of the Pine Tree obtained by a peculiar process in the distillation of the tar, by which its highest medical properties are retained. It invigorates the digestive organs and restores the appetite. It strengthens the debilitated system. It purifies and enriches the blood, and expels from the system the corruption which scrofula breeds on the lungs. It dissolves the mucus or phlegm which stops the air passages of the lungs. Its healing principle acts upon the irritated surface of the lungs and throat, penetrating to each diseased part, relieving pain and subduing inflammation. It is the result of years of study and experiment, and it is offered to the afflicted with positive assurance of its power to cure the following diseases if the patient has not too long delayed a resort to the means of cure:

Consumption of the Lungs, Cough, Sore Throat and Breast, Bronchitis, Liver Complaint, Blind and Bleeding Piles, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Diptheria, &c.

A medical expert, holding honorable collegiate diplomas, devotes his entire time to the examination of patients at the office parlors. Associated with him are three consulting physicians of acknowledged eminence, whose services are given to the public free of charge.

This opportunity is offered by no other institution in the country.

Letters from any part of the country, asking advice, will be promptly and gratuitously responded to. Where convenient, remittances should take the shape of

The Waters' Pianos are built of the very best and most thoroughly seasoned material.—Advocate and Journal.

Our friends will find at Mr. Waters' store the very best assortment of Pianos, Melodeons and Organs to be found in the United States.—Graham's Magazine.

MUSICAL DOINGS.—Since Mr. Waters gave up publishing sheet music, he has devoted his whole capital and attention to the manufacture and sale of Pianos and Melodeons. He has just issued a catalogue of his new instruments, giving a new scale of prices, which shows a marked reduction from former rates, and his Pianos have recently been awarded the First Premium at several Fairs. Many people of the present day, who are attracted, if not confused, with the flaming adeertisements of rival piano houses, probably overlook the modest manufacturer like Mr. Waters; but we happen to know that his instruments earned him a good reputation long before Expositions and "honors" connected therewith were ever thought of; indeed, we have one of Mr. Waters' Pianofortes now in our residence (where it has stood for many years,) of which any manufacturer in the world might well be proud. We have always been delighted with it as a sweet-toned and powerful instrument, and there is no doubt of its durability; more than this, some of the best amateur player in the city, as well as several celebrated pianists have performed on the same piano, and all pronounce it a superior and first-class instrument. Stronger endorsement we could not give.—Home Journal. jan15,'69.

THE WEEKLY WORLD,

a large quarto sheet, printed throughout in large type and published every Wednesday morning, has now the largest circulation of any weekly newspaper in the United States, with possibly, a single exception. Among its prominent features are:

1. Its very full and accurate market reports, embracing the Live Stock markets of New York, Albany, Cambridge, and Philadelphia; and New York Country Produce Market, and General Produce Markets of the country; and full reports of the New York Money Market. Each of the reports are complied with great care, and contain the latest quotations that can be obtained up to the time of putting the paper to press.
2. Its Agricultural Department, which contains each week articles on practical and scientific farming that are of great value to American farmers. A special feature of this department is a weekly summary of the condition of the Hop Markets at home and abroad.
3. A very full report of the proceedings of the Farmers' Club of the American Institute is printed in each issue of the Weekly World, the day after the meeting of the Club. By this arrangement the report appears in the Weekly World one week in advance of its publication in any other weekly paper.
4. A portion of the Weekly World is reserved for family reading matter, including original and selected stories, poems, waifs of humor, and extracts from books and periodicals.—Particular attention will be given to this department during the year 1870.
5. A special feature of the Weekly World is a carefully complied summary of the news of each week. It is made so complete that no one who reads it can fail of being well posted on all the important news of the day.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY WORLD,

published Tuesday and Friday, is a large quarto sheet, containing all the news published in the Daily World, with the exception of such local reports as may be of no interest to non-residents of New York City. Its market reports are as full as those of the Daily edition, and it contains, besides interesting literary matter, on Friday of each week a full report of the Farmers' Club.

THE DAILY WORLD

contains all the news of the day that can be obtained by mail and telegraph from all parts of the world, and the thorough discussions of all topics of interest.

THE WORLD ALMANAC FOR 1870.

"THE WORLD ALMANAC" for 1870 will contain a vast quantity of political information of use to every voter, and of such a character as can be obtained in no other publication. In it will be printed full official returns of every election held in 1869; the vote of New York State by election districts, and Connecticut by towns; the names and dates of each candidate for each branch of the New York Legislature; list of members of the United States Senate and House of Representatives; obituary record and list of important events during the past year. As a compact political manual it will have no equal.

OUR NEW FAMILY SEWING MACHINE.

The superior merits of the "Singer" Machines over all others, for either Family use or Manufacturing purposes, are so well established and so generally admitted, that an enumeration of their relative excellences is no longer considered necessary.

OUR NEW FAMILY MACHINE,

which has been brought to perfection regardless of time, labor, or expense, is now confidently presented to the public as incomparably the Best Sewing Machine in existence. The machine in question is Simple, Compact, Durable and Beautiful. It is quiet, light running, and never before attempted upon a single Machine,—using either SILK, TWIST, LINEN OR COTTON THREAD, and sewing with equal facility the very finest and coarsest materials, and anything between the two extremes, in the most beautiful and substantial manner. Its attachments for Hemming, Braiding, Cording, Tucking, Quilting, Felling, Trimming, Binding, etc., are Novel and Practical, and have been invented and adjusted especially for this Machine.

New designs of the Unique, Useful, and Popular Folding Tops and Cabinet Cases, peculiar to the Machines manufactured by this Company, have been prepared for enclosing the new Machine.

A faint idea, however, can at best be conveyed through the medium of a (necessarily) limited advertisement; and we therefore urge every person in quest of a Sewing Machine, by all means to examine and test, if they can possibly do so, all the leading rival Machines before making a purchase. A selection can then be made understandingly. Branches or agencies for supplying the "Singer" Machines will be found in nearly every city and town throughout the civilized world, where Machines will be cheerfully exhibited, and any information promptly furnished. MIDDLETON'S

ONDERFUL PAIN CURE

A sure remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Growing Pains, Sprains, Bruises, Stiffness of the Joints and all similar diseases.

This wonderful remedy is composed entirely of vegetable ingredients. There are no injurious substances used in its manufacture.

For assurance of its excellent properties, read the following certificates:

BEDFORD, May 8, 1869.

I take great pleasure in giving my testimony to the value of "Middleton's Wonderful Pain Cure." I have been a martyr to Rheumatism. For two months previous to Feb. 25th, last, I was suffering intensely with pain so severe, that during all that time I had not one night of comfortable sleep. I could not put my hands to my face, could not comb my own hair, nor feed myself; but after having the Pain Cure applied once, I found relief enough to give me comfortable sleep, and with its steady use, I continued to get better, and now at the end of ten weeks from its first application, I have comparatively free use of my hands, sleep well and can attend to business. It has done me more good than all other medicines I have ever used put together, and I cheerfully give this certificate of its value.

ELI M. FISHER.

BEDFORD, April 14, 1869.

Mr. W. W. Middleton,

This is to certify that I was taken with Rheumatism, in my right shoulder, on the evening of the 8th inst., so that I was unable to raise my hand to my face. I got some of your Pain Cure and applied it twice, and was entirely relieved. I would recommend to every one who suffers with Rheumatism to give it a trial and
